Accommodation Service – Student Information

Rayat London College does not have any residential halls for accommodating students although we do have an accommodation service with a comprehensive database of local families and landlords who are listed with us. Host family accommodation offered is inspected by the College to ensure safety, cleanliness and comfort. Students take responsibility for their own private, self-catering accommodation.

Host Family Accommodation:

Family accommodation consists of a single private room with study facilities within the family home. Breakfast and evening meals are provided throughout the week and your host family may be able to provide you with a daily packed lunch if required. You will usually join the family for meals and other family activities. The cost is £85 per week. You must pay this weekly in advance direct to the host family. The cost includes all gas, electric and water bills and access to common areas in the home. You will be required to pay a 'Deposit' for your accommodation, however if you decide to leave your accommodation earlier than anticipated you must give at least 4 weeks' notice of your departure. If you decide to return home during holiday periods, you may also be asked to pay a 'retainer fee'. This is a reduced rent payment and will allow you to leave your belongings in your room over the period. Host family accommodation will usually be located outside the town center. You will in some cases, therefore, be required to take a bus/train to get to College. The cost of local transport is your responsibility. To apply for host family accommodation you need to complete the Accommodation Form and return it to the Accommodation Service. Once suitable accommodation has been found, the Accommodation Service will contact you with the details. It is your responsibility to confirm with the family the exact date and time of your arrival. Should you have any problems with your host family, you are advised to contact the Accommodation Service as soon as possible. A transfer to new accommodation can be arranged should problems persist.

Self-Catering Accommodation:

Self-catering accommodation is available from private landlords and usually consists of a single and double private room sharing the kitchen and bathroom facilities with other tenants. The cost varies, but is approximately £45-£65 per week for room (including gas, electricity and water) and you would be expected to pay a share of the telephone bills and obviously provide your own food. You need to pay your rent in advance, either weekly or monthly. A 'Deposit' is usually required on or before your arrival. The Deposit is equivalent to approximately a months' rent and is returnable when you leave the property provided that all the bills have been paid in full and the room has been left as originally found. Self-catering accommodation cannot be held without a deposit and sign a contract.

The College will offer assistance and guidance to students interested in looking at private, self-catering Accommodation where appropriate. Please contact the Accommodation Service for further information.
